ICAN PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT

Dear Fredsministerium,

We are happy to let you know that your request for partnership in the International Campaign to Abolish Nuclear Weapons (ICAN) has been approved by ICAN International Steering Group. ICAN is a campaign in constant growth, and is currently counting more than 500 partner organizations in more than 100 countries around the world.

In order to confirm your partnership please review this partnership agreement and respond with a signed letter from the head of your organization or other authorized person simply citing the "ICAN Partnership Agreement" and your agreement to abide by its requirements.

ICAN campaigners' list

As an ICAN partner, we welcome your participation in the ICAN campaigners' e-list, and we will now add the e-mail address of the contact person listed in your partnership application.

Through this list you will receive action alerts, invitations to events, and internal updates about the campaign, and the state of play in the process towards a treaty banning nuclear weapons. Please feel free to forward this information to your organization to support your activities.

You are also encouraged to share information about any ICAN-related activity carried out by your organization with the campaigners' list. Information shared to the list, unless specified otherwise, may be republished by ICAN either on the website or in other communications. We kindly ask you to avoid using this list to promote activities unrelated to the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons.

Please notify us (admin@icanw.org) if there are other members of your organization who wish to be included in ICAN's campaigners' list, or for any other questions related to the use of this list.

ICAN material

As an ICAN partner, you are also entitled to request, use and publicize ICAN material in accordance with ICAN's communication policies, and seek technical and strategic support from the ICAN International Steering Group and the ICAN International Staff Team.

ICAN has developed a range of videos, publications, and other material. For a full list of ICAN's material, see the "Resources" section on ICAN's webpage, and especially the ICAN Campaigners Kit (which contains useful and inspirational advice from experienced campaigners to help you get up to speed), Catastrophic Humanitarian Harm, which outlines why nuclear weapons is a humanitarian problem, and the booklet The Nuclear Weapons Ban Treaty, which outlines why States should join the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons and what the treaty includes. You can find all these materials on the "Resources" or the "Why a ban?" sections of our website, www.icanw.org.

We would also like to draw your attention to ICAN's public awareness-raising website, www.nuclearban.org. This website is aimed at educating and inspiring new people to understand the horrors of nuclear weapons and what we can do about it. We encourage you to share this website with the members of your organization and network.

If you have any questions about ICAN's material and how to use it, or if there is a person in your organization who is responsible for communication and media work, please do not hesitate to get in touch with us.

ICAN Mailings & Social media

In addition to the ICAN Campaigners List which you will automatically be added to, we encourage you to sign up for the ICAN newsletter on either the ICAN website or the NuclearBan website, and to encourage others, including members of your organization and others in your network to subscribe. By signing up to the list you agree to receive occasional updates from the Campaign. In addition, we encourage you to follow ICAN on Facebook and on Twitter. Our official hashtag is #nuclearban. Feel free to use it any time you discuss nuclear weapons, and please let us know if your organization has a Facebook or Twitter account, so we can follow you as well.

ICAN Logo

We kindly ask that you do not use the main ICAN logo without prior permission unless it is for editorial or information purposes.

Data collection and privacy

ICAN agrees to hold personal data about ICAN partners only for the purposes outlined in this partnership agreement, and not to sell or otherwise transmit that data to any non-partners without explicit consent.

Dispute Resolution

The Parties anticipate resolution of disputes through mutual negotiations and discussions in good faith. The parties contemplate that the Definitive Documents will include mutually acceptable procedures for the use of alternative dispute resolution methods (mediation and arbitration) in the event that a dispute cannot be resolved through good faith discussions.

Note that ICAN reserves the right to revoke partnership for any deemed violation of ICAN's values and principles or if the partner ceases or fundamentally changes the nature of its operations entirely or with respect to the Treaty on the Prohibition on Nuclear Weapons, to be determined at the discretion of the ICAN International Steering Group.

We thank you very much for your application, and are looking forward to working with you. If you have any questions about ICAN, please don't hesitate to get in touch with us.

Sincerely,
